

Marine Communications Master – VHF Short Range Certificate

This is a FREE online ‘preparation’ theory course.

Students may study and obtain all the theoretical knowledge to competently operate a VHF/SRC Radio FREE of charge via their eLearning portal. You may register for your own portal account here.

We hope students will choose to proceed to an IYT Partner School to complete the practical training which will require payment for the “Theory Completion Certificate”. This certificate must be presented to the school where you will prove competency by taking a practical examination. After successful completion of the practical examination, you will be awarded a “Marine Communications Master – VHF Short Range Certificate of Competency” recognized by the Marshall Islands Shipping Registry, the worldwide accepted gold standard of marine communication and registry.
